

RenoTaxRevolt.com is a privately run website exercising free speech to keep taxpayers informed of issues.

This Powerpoint has some humorous and or thought provoking slides for your viewing pleasure.

Two other websites address specifically Education and Homeless:
WatchdogJeff.com and
HomelessSolutionsUSA.org

Watchdog Jeff Church works to keep you informed of Reno, Washoe and statewide tax issues that affect us. So much to cover.

*Views are those of Jeff and do not represent any governmental agency.

Jeff Church received his nickname "Watchdog" courtesy of the late Federal Judge Edward Reed, a former WCSD School Trustee. The moniker came as Jeff represented the rights of military Guard and Reserve members vs the City of Reno.

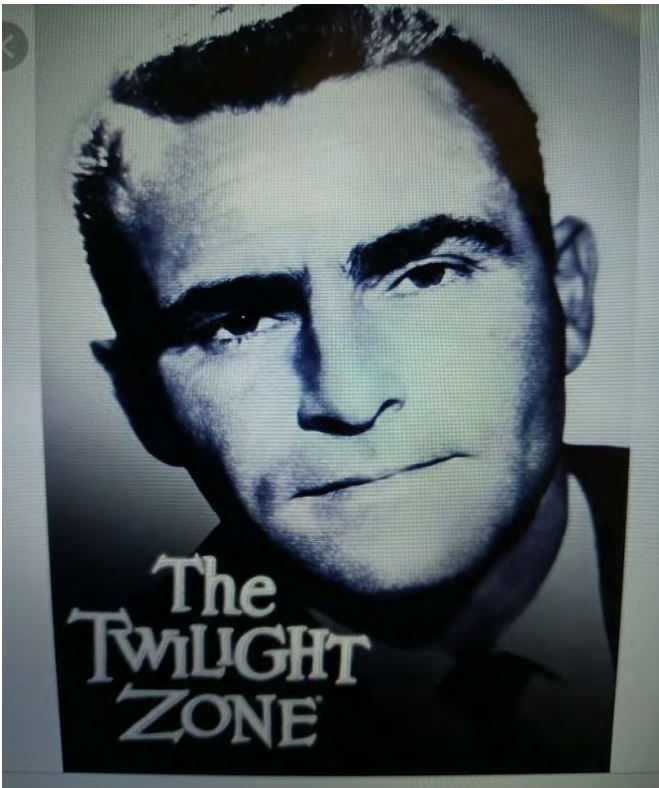

We're from the PC Police and we're here to help

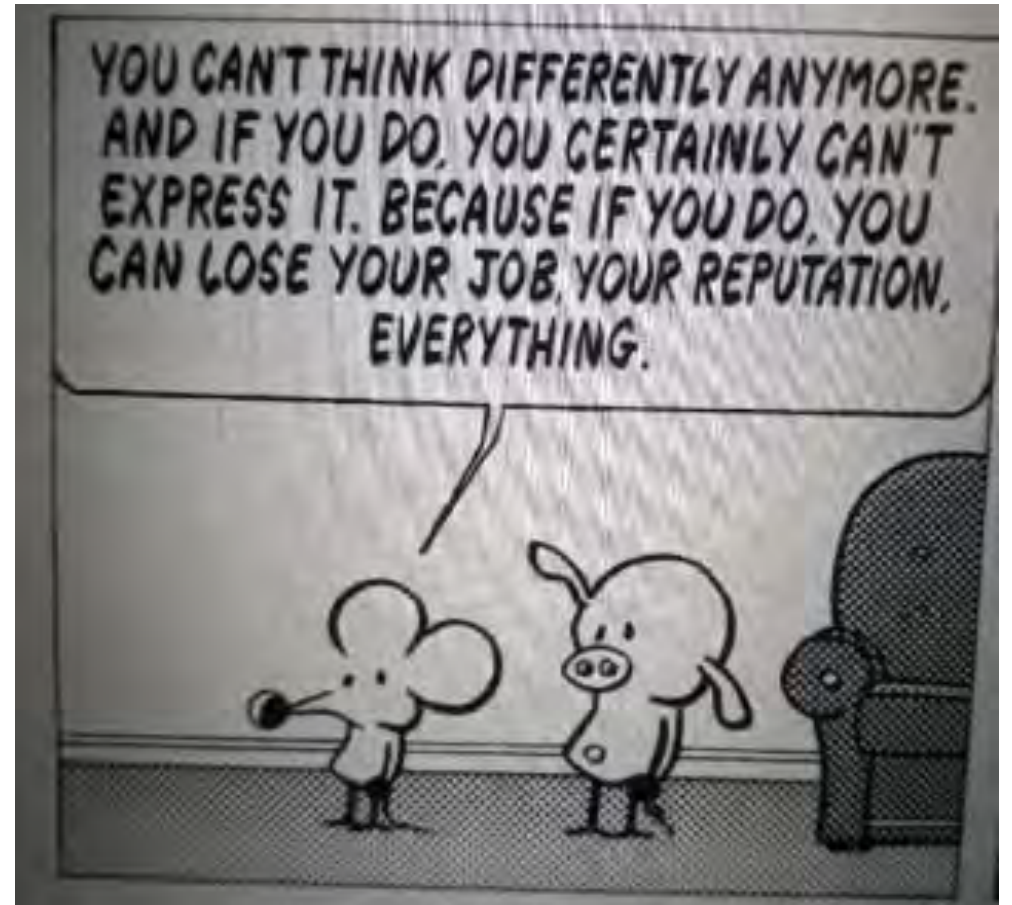

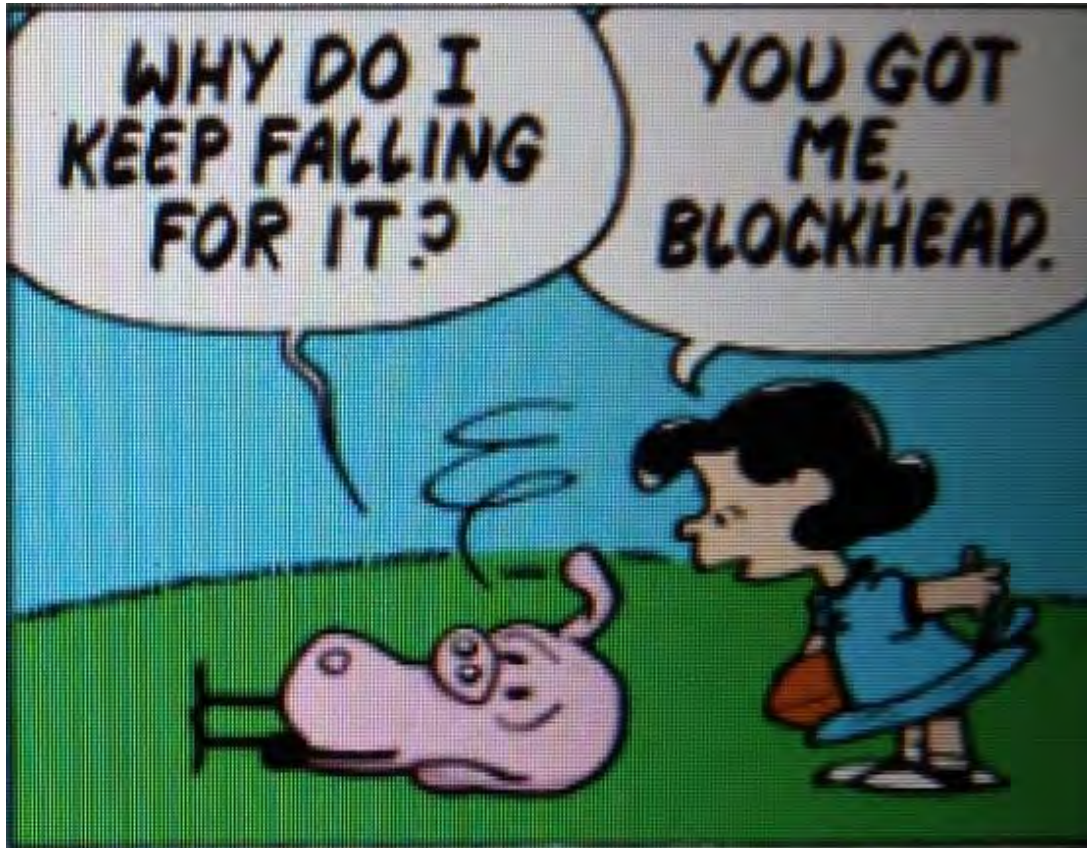

So many issues: RTC5 Gas Tax, WC1 Sales Tax, Homeless costs, Stormwater fee, Public Comment & Free Speech, and much more!

Sometimes watching local government is like watching a train wreck or feeling like you are in the twilight zone.

How many times do we vote for more taxes only to see them used elsewhere such as pay raises?

Their favorite word: Misinformation meaning anything those in power do not agree with.

Frankly we need to get off our rear ends and pay attention, speak out and act!
